RUBBER MOLDINGS

Marcy's Universal Rubber Moldings bend around corners so well that they can replace many fitted moldings. They're fast, efficient, and will improve your bottom-line. Produced with a new blend of EPDM rubber and a unique channel design, Marcy's universal moldings remain flexible in cold weather, provide excellent cornering and grip, and give a professional finish to your installation.

Available in three forms and in eight profiles, these new rubber moldings cover a wide range of both domestic and foreign automotive glass.

Underglass Moldings™

An increasing number of new vehicles are designed with exposed-edge glass and under-the-glass moldings. Marcy's universal Underglass™ Moldings are designed to make the work of the glass installer quicker, easier, and more profitable for these types of replacements and reinstalls.

All of Marcy's Underglass™ Moldings are self-adhesive and very flexible to allow for superior cornering. They "stick and stay stuck." UGM1 is made of solid EPDM rubber. UGM2, UGM3, and UGM6 are made of an extremely flexible sponge rubber and have a built-in edge guide allowing for easy and accurate placement on glass. UGM4 and UGM5 are made from denser sponge rubber that is both flexible and strong. All of Marcy's Underglass Moldings are lead-free (RoHS-compliant).

NOTES:

About Marcy

Marcy invents, manufactures, and distributes adhesive-related products for the glass and automotive industries. Innovation, guided by customer demand, is at the heart of our company ethos.

Founded in 1973, Marcy now has customers on six continents, and is best known for specialty no-residue tapes that have been engineered and manufactured specifically for application to glass and metals that will be exposed to demanding environments.

From our core trademark orange tape (used for glass packaging, molding retention, and windshield protection), we have expanded our line to include 1) polymer extrusions (moldings with pre-applied adhesives), 2) protective products (for glass during distribution and for vehicles prior to repair), and 3) related sundry items (applicators, foams, butyls, etc.) for the auto glass industry.

We believe “Changing the Way the World Installs Glass” is a worthy motto, reminding us of who we serve and how the journey is always unfolding.
